

Finding literature, publishing, and networking

avldigital.de: a free-to-use information hub in the field of Comparative Literature, designed to fit the needs of researchers worldwide

What you can do on avldigital.de

Connect to Comparative Literature communities

Network with scholars and research institutions in Germany and worldwide via the Networking platform

Stay up to date – update your colleagues

Find – and disseminate – calls for papers, vacancies, conference announcements, and much more

Make yourself and your research known

Sign up for our Index of Researchers – or register your project or institution for a profile in our Networking database

Make your work visible in new communities

Add your work to Finding literature's specialised catalogue of Comparative Literature research publications

Allow fellow scholars worldwide (open) access to your work

Our repository CompaRe is your ticket to the open access transformation – and to global awareness of your research

Contact information:

 <https://www.avldigital.de/en/>

 info@avldigital.de

 @AVLdigital

Funded by

UNIVERSITÄTS
BIBLIOTHEK
FRANKFURT AM MAIN

About avldigital.de

avldigital.de is a Germany-based web portal designed specifically for scholars and institutions in the field of Comparative Literature. The project aims to supply researchers with means of finding scholarly literature and information, to support them in open-access publishing, and to establish a communication platform for the Comparative Literature community. Funded by the German Research Foundation, the platform is free-to-use. Research and activities can be made visible and accessible to comparatists all over the world by posting announcements, institutional profiles, project outlines and more and linking them to personal and institutional profile pages. All entries are disseminated by newsletter and via twitter.

avldigital.de is cooperating with institutions such as the Stanford Literary Lab, Leibniz-Zentrum für Literatur- und Kulturforschung, Max Planck Institute for Empirical Aesthetics, the International Comparative Literature Association (ICLA), and many more.

We are always looking forward to finding new cooperation partners!

avldigital.de is hosted by the Specialised Information Service Comparative Literature (SIS Comparative Literature) located at the Johann Christian Senckenberg University Library in Frankfurt am Main.

Our team wishes you an exciting conference!